AMERICAN INGENUITY

From its founding, America has been a nation of doers, makers, and dreamers. American technological innovation, number three in the world, has fueled advancement in clean energy, biotechnology, and AI.

Technology is a good servant but a terrible master. Left unchecked, it can turn truth into lies and lies into truth. It can corrupt the rich and enrich the corrupt.

Innovations like cryptocurrency, including stablecoins, and AI need to be governed for the common good. Let's speak up now for a human-centered world.
